

The Frankfort Roundabout.

GEORGE A LEWIS, Publisher.

DEVOTED TO LOCAL AND SOCIETY NEWS.

TERMS, ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR

Volume X.

FRANKFORT, KY., SEPTEMBER 3, 1887.

Number 51.

THE FIRST OF THE SEASON!

Fall Suitings JUST RECEIVED

BY

HUDSON, HUMPHRIES & CASSELL.

Come Early and Make Your Selection.

Harp.

DIED.—Infant of Richard Blackabee, of Flag Fork, of dysentery.

The picnic on the Flat Creek pike was largely attended and all enjoyed themselves.

William Harrod, who has been quite ill for some time with gastritis, is slowly but steadily improving.

Our farmers have about completed their threshing. The grain crop was somewhat shorter than was anticipated.

A good, refreshing shower has made every thing look quite pleasant and the prospects for a crop are somewhat brightened.

O. B. Polsgrove has moved from this section to become a citizen of Frankfort. We hope he will not only succeed in whatever he may engage in, but that he may become one of the prominent men of Frankfort in her future history.

Mrs. Bettie Polsgrove, wife of O. B. Polsgrove, after a stay of four months in Caldwell, Kansas, has returned home. Kentucky has its charm, and not many can leave her cheerful borders without a longing desire to return. Mrs. Polsgrove says the drouth has caused a gloomy appearance in that part of the country.

Our old friend, M. S. Urban, was married to Miss Terhune, of Lawrenceburg, Ky., last week. We hope their journey through life may be smooth and pleasant. May they enjoy many memorials of their happy union. We learn Mr. Urban, with his beautiful bride, will shortly remove to Hempstead, Texas, where he will probably permanently locate.

Thomas Harp, a facetious old bachelor of Harp, created quite a sensation, as well as a surprise to his friends by appropriating and reducing to his own possession the daughter of Mr. Albert Warfield, Miss Rosa Warfield. They were married at the residence of Rcv. J. A. Peters, that gentleman officiating at the ceremonies. Mr. Harp has the good wishes of all his friends in his new venture.

Mr. Jonah Neal's infant child died of congestion of the brain on last Wednesday morning, the 10th inst.

The infant child of Robert Mitchell died of dysentery on the 7th inst.

Both the above have our warmest sympathy in their bereavement. Each losing the only child he had. Mr. Neal has lost three children quite recently.

At the picnic, on Bald Knob pike, last Saturday were collected the "beauty and chivalry" of the section. Dancing and festivity were the order of the day. After a superb burgoo dinner, the ladies and gentlemen gathered around the speakers stand and listened to addresses made by Dr. Wilson, Messrs. Cromwell and Johnson, Hon. J. A. Scott and J. D. Kehoe. Every one at the picnic went home satisfied with himself and all the rest of the world.

Prof. Tracy, with that exceedingly bad boy of his, has commenced teaching the Public School at Polsgrove school house. An attractive feature of the Professor's peregrinations is his love for children, music, and Sunday-schools. These make him a welcome visitor in every neighborhood. That mythical incorrigible lad has grown-up, as the Professor's vivid fancy expanded, until you can not see one without thought of the other. He does not seem to have lowered the Professor's standard of ethics, but rather serves as a stimulant to a higher code of greater purity.

Mrs. Josephine North, feeling herself somewhat aggrieved, swore out a peace warrant from the office of Esquire Lee against John B. Harrod. Mr. Harrod had a warrant of arrest served on Mrs. North and Miss Emma Marshall for breach of the peace. The cases were tried before Esquire Lee, at the Harp school-house on Friday, resulting in the acquittal of J. B. Harrod, fining Dan Harrod one cent and costs, and also fining Miss Emma Marshall five dollars and costs. The Parties are all neighbors and a misunderstanding among the children was the cause of the trouble.

Jett.

A merry party left here recently for a "fish fry," on the river, among whom were Misses Retta Pilkington, of Sedalia, Mo., and Mary Price of Cincinnati, (guests of Mrs. Botts); Carrie Hanly, Lizzie and Jennie Jett, Annie South, May and Eloise Trumbo, Messrs. Hanly, Allan, Emulus and Ruff, Cromwell, Randolph and Thomas Jett, Jerry South and Bob Crutcher.

The party was chaperoned by Mrs. Resor, of Cincinnati, who made the most vigilant of chaperones, aided by cups of cold water and switches of enormous size, succeeded admirably in banishing sleep, and keeping up the good natured spirits of the crowd.

The party was gotten up with great care by the young men, who, ever mindful of the comfort of the fair sex, had provided a tent of ample dimensions for their number, but the long delayed and much needed rain coming on at that time, they most hospitably threw open the door and invited all to enter, where they were all royally entertained at "Progressive Eucher," seats being provided in true Turkish fashion.

Ladies were never known to fail in an emergency, and this time was no exception, for they had thoughtfully provided appropriate prizes for the occasion.

The merriment of the party was much accelerated by the arrival of the following guests: Messrs. Collins, Tachau, Walker, Mart, South, and Trumbo. After the awarding of prizes, bountiful refreshments were served, after which the guests departed, when the spirits of the party were at their height, and remained so until the cock crew in the morning, which kind and thoughtful fowl, thinking too much quiet reigned, stationed himself at the door of the tent and made the beautiful Kentucky cliffs resound. Immediately every thing in the camp was stir and bustle, forked sticks, with pieces of bacon attached, were wielded over the fire and heads of the crowd, and the typical camp coffee and corn bread, when they made their appearance off the well washed table-cloth spread on the floor of the tent, were not to be despised.

Excursion, by boats, was made to a neighboring watermelon patch, where the first sounds that greeted the ears of the party were strains from a violin, which was sufficient to arouse the Terpsichorean propensities of all, and immediately a lively quadrille was formed, when, to use a slang expression they were soon "raising sand." The old song suggested itself—

"Let us dance on the sands
Where the blue waters roll
Let us dance, let us dance on the sands."

All pleasant things must have an end. It was with many regrets that camp was broken and all dispersed to their homes, wishing that good fortune would so favor that all might meet again.

Query.—What made night hideous?

Mr. R. E. Hawkins, the great watermelon raiser says that we put his patch on the wrong man's land. It should have been on the land of Mr. Colon Jones, and not Gen. Scott Brown's. We make the amende. We are under obligations for another superb melon.

LECOMPTÉ & CARPENTER,

SOUTH FRANKFORT, KY.,

DRUGGISTS

—AND—

PHARMACEUTISTS,

A GENERAL ASSORTMENT OF

DRUGS, MEDICINES & CHEMICALS,

PERFUMERY,

FANCY TOILET ARTICLES,

PHYSICIAN'S

PRESCRIPTIONS

Carefully compounded. Patent Medicines
Pure Wines and Liqueurs for medicinal purposes.

Personals.

Mr. Will Banta attended the Lexington Fair Wednesday.

Ex-Gov. J. B. McCreary and wife were at the inauguration.

Miss Jennie Hunter, of Versailles, attended the inaugural hop.

Gen. Cassius M. Clay, of Madison county, attended the inauguration.

Rev. Dr. J. M. Lewis, wife and daughter, were in the city on inauguration day.

Gen. J. F. Robinson, Collector 7th District, was in the city on Tuesday.

Mrs. A. C. Morris and son are visiting Mrs. Morris' father, Col. Thos. Rodman.

Miss Eugenia Lewis, of Midway, has been in the city this week, visiting friends.

Mrs. J. H. Todd left Wednesday afternoon for a visit to relatives in Cincinnati.

Mr. J. A. Coons and family have returned from a visit to friends in Fayette county.

Miss Katie Lawler, of Monterey, Owen county, has been visiting friends in this city.

Mr. Harry B. O'Donnell left Wednesday for New York to purchase a fall stock of Col. Morris B. Belknap, of Louisville, was the guest of Mr. M. P. Gray on Tuesday.

Mrs. C. Herancourt and daughter, Miss Lillie, are attending the Lexington Fair this week.

Miss Lorena Young left Wednesday for Midway to attend school at the Orphans' Home.

Mrs. Ben. T. Quinn, of Georgetown, has been visiting the family of Mr. W. S. Dehoney this week.

Mr. K. K. McClure left for Boston and New York, on Thursday, to purchase his fall stock of goods.

Mrs. J. B. Hawkins and daughter have returned from a two months' visit to relatives in Georgetown.

Mrs. Mollie Jamison and Mrs. Grigg, of Nicholasville, Ky., are visiting Mrs. J. M. Stephens, South Side.

Mrs. Augusta Parkinson and Miss Lucy Patterson, of Springfield, Ills., are visiting relatives in this city.

Misses Annie and Emily Thomas left Thursday afternoon for Boston, Massachusetts, to visit Mrs. George Darsie.

Miss Katie Nelson, of Mercer county, has been visiting the family of her uncle, Mr. C. C. Furr, for the past week.

Mrs. Maxey and Miss Effie Lewis Neely, of Mississippi, came down from Midway Tuesday to attend the inauguration.

Mr. Robert M. Patterson and Mr. Miller, of Springfield, Ills., are visiting friends near Woodlake, this county.

Miss Flossie French, of Raton, New Mexico, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. Wm. French, and wife, in this city.

Miss Maul-Hutchinson and Miss Florence Hutchinson, of Nicholasville, are visiting Mrs. Jack Long, South Frankfort.

Mr. W. T. Havens, of the Mt. Sterling Sentinel-Democrat, was in town inauguration day, and made us a pleasant call.

Judge H. W. Bruce and wife, of Louisville, attended the inauguration, and brightened our sanctuary by their presence.

Misses Katie and Annie Baker, of Lexington, who have been visiting relatives in this city, returned home Wednesday morning.

Senator L. M. Martin and wife, who have been visiting Mrs. Martin's parents, Judge and Mrs. Bush, left for home on Friday morning.

Rev. G. C. Faris and Mr. Peter Jett attended the meeting of Louisville Presbytery at Jeffersontown, Jefferson county, this week.

Miss Addie Lawler, who has been visiting friends in this city for several months, left Wednesday afternoon for her home in Chicago, Ills.

Mrs. John Will, Johnson and daughter left Friday evening for Chattanooga, Tennessee, to join her husband and make that city her future home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Padden, of Springfield, Ohio, and Wm. B. Hay and J. P. Ways, of Cincinnati, are visiting Mr. M. R. Ways of the South Side.

Judge Caswell Bennett, of the Court of Appeals, and wife, have returned to the city for the fall term of court, and have taken rooms at the Capital Hotel.

Messrs. George and Sims Troutman, of Eminence, came up Tuesday to witness the inauguration, and were the guests of Mrs. J. C. Morton and Miss Sallie Jackson.

Messrs. Thomas Searcy and Thomas Stranger, of Sangamon county, Illinois, passed through this city Wednesday afternoon on their way to visit their old homes in Anderson county.

Miss Nora Baker, of Lexington, who has been visiting Mrs. Clarence Egbert the past week, will return home this morning.

Mrs. M. S. Pateson and daughter, Miss Alice, who have been visiting relatives in this city and county for the past week, left Wednesday morning for their home in Springfield, Illinois.

Mr. Walter Franklin and wife and Miss Louie Ward returned Thursday from a visit of several weeks to Mr. Robt. B. Franklin and wife in St. Paul, Minnesota, accompanied by Mrs. R. B. Franklin and children.

Messrs. Dan, O'Sullivan and O. J. Cromwell, of the Louisville Commercial; E. Polk Johnson, of the Courier-Journal; W. T. Havens, of the Mt. Sterling Sentinel; F. L. McChesney, of the Paris Kentuckian; and—Wilson, of the Louisville Times, were among the press representatives who attended the inaugural ceremonies on Tuesday.

Benson.

Stock water very scarce.

Miss Lizzie Ryan is visiting in Frankfort.

Miss Mary Pattie attended the Shelby Fair.

Miss Martha Crutcher, of Frankfort, spent a week with relatives and friends at Benson.

D. B. Polsgrove has been very much benefitted by two weeks recreation at the Grayson Springs.

Mitchell C. Ryan, the popular railroad man, will spend a few days in Cincinnati and Columbus this coming week.

Protracted meeting will commence at North Benson Baptist Church next Sunday.

Z. T. Hulker, with a full force of men is moving a hill for the R. R. Co.

Capt. Wm. Taylor is shipping a large amount of stone to Emigence for building and street work.

Business is brisk all along the line of the L. & N. R. R. from Benson to Hatton, getting out ballast rock.

We must congratulate the trustees of the district school for building a new school-house and securing Mr. A. J. Hulet, who is highly qualified, as a teacher.

Bro. P. H. Roberts, assisted by Brothers Reed, Moore and Singleton, are conducting a very interesting and prosperous Sabbath-school at Benson Church. I am sorry to say some of the members and deacons, living in sight, don't attend.

We are told two young men, keeping batch and breaking rock on the railroad, subsisted on watermelons and 25 pounds of flour for one month and strange to say they have not had a chill to date.

In our last issue we stated that Messrs. G. W. Miller & Co. had made an assignment, when we should have said Mr. G. W. Miller, as his partner did not assign.

Charles Coleman, colored, was arrested and lodged in jail at Flemingsburg, Ky., Monday afternoon, for a vile assault committed on two white women at Bald Hill, late Sunday night. Colman worked on a farm adjoining the premises of Mrs. Ringwood, a widow, and went to her house, broke down the doors, knocked the woman down, and Miss Nellie Sweeney, aged nineteen, of Maysville, who was a guest of Mrs. Ringwood. The women fought him like tigresses, Evening Journal.

The Fincel Bros. know how to advertise. Such business men as these will always succeed. Their unique advertisement in the Journal has attracted a great deal of attention. They are liberal gentlemen, and deserve liberal patronage.

There are several steamboats laying up here waiting for the navigation of the Kentucky river to open.

(For the ROUNDABOUT.)
Strange Islands.
Inscribed to T. J. T. and S. D. J.

BY S. & C.
In the wondrous "land of shadows,"
In the land beyond our ken,
Lie a group of sunny islands,
Peopled by a race of men,
Never child or woman seen there,
Never bird, nor bee, nor flower,
But disorder reigns supreme,
And discussion rules the hour.

They are neither monks, nor convicts;
Willing subjects are these men,
They've a legend, evidence give it.
"We've a legend, evidence give it."
"That their island must be cherished,
Keep secluded all their lives,
And if sons are ever broken,
Each will be a slave-to-wives."

So they live, secluded mortals,
Strange to say and odd to tell,
Fraid to venture through the portals
To the land where women dwell.
Can you guess what race of people
Fill these islands far and near?
Then I'll whisper—keep the secret—
Bachelors are they.
July 28, 1887.

As we stated, a few weeks ago, we did not believe the stories brewed about that Dr. T. H. Hudson had attempted to defraud his foster father. Now comes the proof that we were correct, in the following card from Mr. Stevens himself, viz: *

ORE, Ky., Aug. 22, 1887.
To the Editor of the Shelby News:
I want to correct some erroneous reports that have been circulated since the death of my wife. It has been reported that the cause of my wife's trouble, was that Dr. T. H. Hudson would not deed back my farm that I deeded to him some ten years since. I deeded the property to Dr. Hudson at my wife's request; it was not my will to do so, but she thought it would give me time to pay a security debt; that was hanging over me at that time. Now I want to say, in justice to Dr. Hudson, that he came to me about a year ago before he started to Kansas City, Mo., and wanted to deed the property back to me, but I told him to wait until I could arrange to settle the security debt mentioned. I want to say further, that Dr. Hudson in a short time after I deeded the property to him, he (Dr. Hudson) made a will giving me the property back at his death, and my wife knew it. I will say further, that Dr. Hudson has made me a deed giving me not only the same property back, but some twenty or twenty-five acres more, that he had paid for himself. There were never any accounts kept between Dr. Hudson and myself. What I had was his, what he had was mine. I wish all the papers that have mentioned this affair, would now please correct.
WM. A. STEVENS.

The school in district, No. 14, Leestown, will be opened on Monday next.

One Lived, the Other Died.

A woman formerly our slave is now our cook. About eighteen months ago she became sickly and had a cough and was confined to bed, and it was thought that she had consumption. The treatment by physicians failed to give relief. In December, 1884, a man of the size of a goose egg formed just above the pit of the stomach, which when lanced discharged matter for 8 or 9 months. One of these also formed under her arm, and three on her back, which discharged matter for a considerable time. For six months of this time she was confined to the house and most of the time in bed. The stomach often refused food, by rejecting what she had eaten. She used a great deal of medicine, but failed to be cured. I bought one bottle of your B. B. B. (made in Atlanta, Ga.) and gave it to her, and she commenced to improve. I then bought and gave her three bottles more, and she continued to improve and in two months' time her cough had ceased, her constitution strengthened, appetite and digestion good, all discharges ceased, nodes or knots disappeared and she went to work apparently healthy and fattened up greatly. This woman had a married sister of near same age who was affected in precisely the same way and about the same time. She had a node or knot on pit of stomach, back, etc. She did not take any B. B. B. and the node on her stomach ate through the cavity. She continued on the decline and wasted away, and finally died.

These were two terrible cases of blood poison—one used B. B. B. and was speedily cured—the other did not use it and died. It is most assuredly a most wonderful blood purifier. I refer to merchants of this town.
Yours truly,
Wm. W. T. ROBINSON.
Tishabee, Ala., May 1, 1886.

A Sheriff Released.

For a period of sixteen years I have been afflicted with catarrh of the head, which baffled the use of all medicines used. Seeing the advertisement of B. B. B., I purchased and used six or seven bottles, and although used irregularly I received great relief, and recommend it as a great blood purifier.
[Signed] J. K. HOLCOMBE, JR.,
Sheriff of Harlan county, Ga.

All who desire full information about the cause and cure of Blood Poison, Scrofula and Scrofulous Swellings, Ulcers, Sores, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaints, Catarrh, etc., can secure by mail, free, a copy of our 32-page Illustrated Book of Wonders, filled with the most wonderful and startling proof ever before known.

Address, BLOOD BALM CO.,
Aug-21 1m Atlanta, Ga.

NO SPECULATION, But a Safe Investment.

"Our doubts are traitors,
And make us lose the good we oft might win,
By fearing to attempt."

We often hear the lamentations of those who visited St. Paul six years ago and failed to invest, because they thought it would not grow much more. But stronger still will be the vain regrets of those who have a little money now, and fail to invest it here, because they have been so unfortunate as not to see St. Paul. The country is just beginning to realize what St. Paul has done in late years, and what a future it has before it. There is no city in the Union with its size, business and future prospects, where property is near as cheap.

The following comparative statement of real estate values, obtained from leading conservative agencies in the respective cities, during April, 1887, speaks for itself:

	Population.	Highest Price per front Foot.	Highest Price per acre.	Highest Adjoining Residence.	Highest Adjoining Acreage per acre.
Chicago	750,000	$6,000	$700	$7,000	$7,000
Buffalo	240,000	3,000	850	2,000	2,000
Cleveland	227,000	3,500	500	1,500	1,500
Milwaukee	165,000	1,500	200	3,000	3,000
Detroit	125,000	2,000	300	3,000	3,000
Minneapolis	140,000	1,200	300	2,000	2,000
St. Paul	105,000	8,500	300	5,000	5,000
Kansas City	90,000	800	150	300	300
Indianapolis	78,000	1,200	150	5,000	5,000
Omaha	50,000	1,100	100	1,000	1,000
Toledo	20,000	1,000	100	1,000	1,000

The "Twin Cities," St. Paul and Minneapolis are only ten miles apart from centre to centre; have only about five miles of a partly vacant space between them, and have a common corporation line between them therein. These cities, which in 1880 had only 41,000 and 48,000 inhabitants respectively, have now 140,000, possibly over 150,000 each, and the tide of immigration is pouring in faster than ever. Considerably more than one-third of the immigration of this country finds a home in the territory immediately tributary to

ST. PAUL'S IMMENSE TRADE.

Nineteen railroads run into the city, ten of these being big trunk lines, making it

The Third Railroad Centre in the United States.

The completion this year of the Minneapolis, Saint Ste Marie and Atlantic Road will give it direct communication with New York, independent of Chicago, and will put it one hundred miles nearer the Atlantic coast.

At the head of Navigation on the Mississippi,

And only one hundred miles from Lake Superior, it can laugh at the terrors of the Inter-State Commerce Law. The rich country all around is filling up more and more, and new railroads are springing into existence with wonderful rapidity, making still larger fields for its already immense wholesale trade. Its great manufactures are daily increasing, and it is rapidly becoming the centre of the STOCK-YARD AND PACKING INDUSTRIES.

There are more millionaires here than in any city of twice its size on the Continent. All the causes that have for the last five years operated to make St. Paul a great city, are working more strongly than ever, and being in the centre of the richest and most rapidly developing part of the United States, St. Paul and Minneapolis

WILL SOON BE ONE IMMENSE CITY.

"By every argument that can be drawn from the past, by every present material condition, by the certain promise of the city's situation and surroundings, by every proof which has been tried in the experience of city growth, St. Paul feels assured that the era of prosperity now upon the city is to witness changes more astounding and more satisfying than those which have already made it the wonder and admiration of all, whose good fortune it has been to visit the city and in a measure become acquainted with her institutions."

We have a large number of Southern customers, and all their investments have either been sold out at a large profit, in some cases

Three Hundred per Cent. per Annum,

Or have largely advanced in value. An investment made with moderate judgment here is sure to net the owner from 25 TO 100 PER CENT. PER ANNUM.

ROBT B. FRANKLIN. ODIN G. CLAY.

FRANKLIN & CLAY,
REAL ESTATE DEALERS,
GLOBE BUILDING.
ST. PAUL, MINNESOTA.

REFERENCES BY PERMISSION:

Farmers Bank of Kentucky, National Bank of Virginia,
Deposit Bank of Frankfort, State Bank of Virginia,
Branch Bank of Kentucky, Planters National Bank,
Frankfort, Ky. Richmond, Va.

The Bank of Minnesota,
St. Paul, Minn.

may28-1y

[From the Argus.]
Inauguration Ceremonies.

The induction into office of Gen. S. B. Buckner as Governor of Kentucky, took place on Tuesday last, in the Capital grounds, and was witnessed by an immense concourse of people from all parts of the State. There were fully 10,000 people in the State House yard during the ceremonies.

The hour for starting, 11 o'clock, a. m., was indicated by the firing of the cannon at the Arsenal. The first division wheeled into column of platoons, right in front, and marched into and east on Broadway street. As soon as the second division was uncovered by the first, it fell into the rear of the first division, and was followed by the third division. The line of march was east on Broadway to High street, north on High street, until the center of the military was opposite the front of the Governor's mansion, when it halted, wheeled into line, and received the Governor with a salute, after which the march was resumed, north on High street to Mero street, west on Mero street to Ann street, south on Ann street until the right of the military reached Main street, where it halted, wheeled into line, and received the Governor-elect and escort with a salute, after which the march was resumed, west on Main street to St. Clair, south on St. Clair street to Wapping street, west on Wapping street to Wilkinson street, north on Wilkinson street to Main street, east on Main street to Washington street, north on Washington street to Broadway, east on Broadway to Capitol Square, where the procession disbanded.

In moving into Broadway from Washington street the military marched on the south side of the railroad track, and the balance of the procession on the north side. When its center reached the entrance to the Capitol grounds the military halted, wheeled into line, and saluted the Governor and Governor-elect as they left the procession. The Committee of Reception, at the entrance to the Capitol grounds, received the Governor and Governor-elect and the Committee of Escort and conducted them to the stand.

At 11:40 the Governor and Governor-elect were conducted to the stand by the Committee of Escort. The seats on the stand were occupied by a large number of prominent citizens of the State, among them Hon. Jas. B. Beck and Hon. J. C. S. Blackburn, Kentucky's Senators, and ex-Governor, Jas. B. McCreary.

At 12 o'clock the ceremonies were opened with prayer by the Rev. Mr. Penick, of the Episcopal Church, at the close of which Gov. Knott stepped forward and spoke as follows:

Ladies and gentlemen:

I am profoundly gratified to see this large concourse of my fellow-citizens, assembled without regard to political predilection or party affiliation, to testify their respect for the distinguished gentleman who has been chosen to the Chief Executive Magistracy of our State, and who is about to assume the discharge of its important and perplexing functions.

He is in every way worthy of such a demonstration. His recent election to the most exalted position known to the Constitution of the Commonwealth adds but little to his claims to your confidence and esteem. His fame had already been achieved. His honorable deeds had already been recorded in imperishable characters upon the most stirring pages of his country's history. His perfectly rounded character, blending in pleasant harmony every attribute that ennobles manhood, has long been familiar as household words around every hearth-stone in Kentucky. Gifted with a strong and comprehensive intellect, richly stored with the treasures of useful learning, and the fruits of an active and varied experience in the affairs of men, honest of purpose, deliberate in judgment, inflexible in justice, determined in execution, humane in disposition, and inspired at all times by that passionate pride in the honor and grandeur of his native State which always indicates the genuine Kentuckian, I predict for him one of the purest and most successful administrations that ever adorned the annals of the Commonwealth.

He is, however, about to enter upon the discharge of duties which are as difficult as they are responsible. That he will be frequently misled I fear will be true. That he is liable to err I will not pretend to deny. He would be more than human if he were not. All who have preceded him in his great office have done so, and so will all who shall come after him. But as a matter of simple justice I would bespeak for his official conduct, whatever it may be, that fair and impartial consideration which honest, high minded men have a right to expect of each other. Let him not be condemned in any case without a hearing. Let censure be reserved until his action shall have been calmly considered in the light of all the surrounding circumstances. No honest man would ask more; no just man could concede less.

Your present demonstration has, however, a deeper and more gratifying significance than as a mere manifestation of your personal regard for your incoming Governor. Interpret it as a testimonial of the profound respect which the people of Kentucky entertain for the exalted position to which their suffrage has called him, and of their confident reliance upon the benign protection of the law, which it is his special province under his oath to see faithfully executed.

-In this view, your presence on this occasion affords me unspeakable pleasure. When the people learn to regard the representatives of constituted authority with contempt, they will soon lose respect for the law itself, and set its salutary restraints at defiance. This must speedily lead to the despotism of the mob, to be followed by the despotism of organized government. But as long as I find the people manifesting a becoming respect for their own institutions, on all proper occasions, I know that their liberties are safe, and popular prosperity assured.

But delighted as I am to meet you here, there is a single sad circumstance which materially mars the pleasure of this happy hour. It is the absence from this stand of my illustrious and beloved predecessor, the grand, great-hearted man who, but four short years ago, delivered back untarnished to his countrymen the most sacred and dignified trust they could repose in him, and retired from his high office bearing, like a crown of stars upon his venerable head, the affectionate benedictions of a noble and generous people. Stricken by the hand of disease, and languishing upon a bed of suffering, there is not a genuine Kentucky heart to-day untouched by a pang of tenderest sympathy for his affliction, and not a tongue unmoved by a fervent prayer for his speedy recovery. Grand and venerable man! Broad in his humanity as yon all pervading sun, he has reared for himself in the affections of his fellowmen, a monument more durable than sculptured marble or memorial brass.

I know it has been the custom of my predecessors on retiring from the great office I am about to leave, to indulge, to some extent, in a retrospect of their respective terms of service. But whether that custom were "better honored in the breach than the observance," I have nothing to say of my official conduct. "What is written is written." My acts, whether important or trivial, have become a part of the inexorable, immutable history of the State.

No comment or explanation of mine could enlarge their effect or diminish their consequences. I have simply endeavored to do my duty as I have been given to understand it. If I have done or suggested anything that has endured to the advantage of the Commonwealth, it will be gratefully appreciated by a just and enlightened people. If I have erred at any time, a generous and confiding constituency will forgive me.

I should be deaf to the dictates of my own sentiments of unaffected friendship, however, as well as untrue to my own sense of justice if I should fail to bear testimony to the ability, integrity and fidelity with which my official associates have discharged their respective duties. My intercourse with them throughout the entire term of my administration has been marked by the utmost intimacy and frankness. The heads of the other departments, as well as my distinguished Secretary of State, who for more than ten years, has been one of the most loyal, affectionate and trusted friends my heart has ever cherished, have been my constant and candid counsellors with regard to the conduct of affairs entrusted to their charge, while the demeanor of the excellent and efficient clerical force, in all our personal and official relations, has invariably been characterized by the most pleasing courtesy and confidence. Among them I have formed some of the most delightful friendships of my entire life, and here, at the close of a long and familiar association, which I will cherish with affectionate remembrance to my dying hour, it affords me the highest happiness to be able to say that, in the discharge of their various duties, not one of them has ever brought reproach upon his own character, or marred the escutcheon of the Commonwealth with the slightest stain.

To them and to all my kind and valued friends in the city of Frankfort I desire to say that my only pang of regret, in retiring to the quiet and coveted walks of private life, is in severing the most delightful social relations I have ever known. I came into their midst but four years ago almost a total stranger. I leave them to-day an affectionate and lasting friend. Cultivated in taste, refined in sentiment, elegant in manner, simple in habit, genial and kindly in their deportment to others. I have found them on all occasions the most agreeable neighbors I have ever had. At every threshold I have been received by the open palm of a generous hospitality. On every hand and from all classes, I have been the constant recipient of kindly courtesy and unaffected respect. I go from among them with a heart overflowing with gratitude and affection which I have no language to express. I can only ejaculate the fervent, simple prayer that heaven's richest blessings may be upon to them and theirs through life, and that this beautiful little Capital, with its untold wealth of historic memories, may always remain, as it has been, the pride of every Kentuckian and central jewel in the coronet of the Commonwealth.

Then Hon. E. H. Taylor delivered the following address of welcome to the newly elected Governor:

FELLOW CITIZENS:

Under a law, established by a custom of years, the chief executive of the City of Frankfort, is conceded the office of introducing formally to the people each newly-chosen Chief Executive of the Commonwealth.

As present Mayor of Frankfort, I have, therefore, the distinguished privilege to present to-day His Excellency, SIMON BOLIVAR BUCKNER, by free choice of the people, Governor of the State of Kentucky. In doing this, it is my pleasure to say, not more as a public servant than as a private individual, that the distinction is one in which I take an inexpressible pride and satisfaction. Fully advised, as are most of those who are here present, of the wisdom, the courage and the integrity that have characterized the walk, thus far, of this particular citizen, I have a consciousness that from this hour of his induction to the public duties he must perform, to that in which, as his beloved and honorable predecessor has just done, he must retire, there will be no stain upon his career and no just reproach upon his action.

It is my belief that, like the fabled Ulysses of old, he will bear with him through the Circean regions of political public life, that magical white flower of Mercury which will prevent his hardening into stone and hold him unharmed to the end.

I present you the broad-minded, honorable gentleman you have chosen, and I congratulate you upon having chosen so well.

After music, Gen. Buckner delivered the following inaugural address:

When I review the long line of distinguished citizens who have filled with signal ability the office of Governor of this State, it is with diffidence that I enter upon the discharge of the duties to which I have been called by the people of Kentucky. Grateful for the confidence they have reposed in me, and actuated by a feeling of reverence for the Commonwealth, I desire to bring to the discharge of these duties a purpose to merit, as far as possible, the generous expectations of the citizens of this State, and to do so, as far as her chief Executive can do, the interests of her people. The duties of the office would be arduous under the simplest form of government; they are doubly so under the complicated system under which we live.

The States originally invested with all powers of government have freely parted with a portion of their former sovereignty by conferring it upon a common government of all the States, reserving to themselves the rights of local self-government. Each government is supreme within the limits of the powers granted to the one and reserved by the others; and while it is the duty of the States to support and maintain in the general government the powers that have been conceded to it, it is equally the duty of the general government to respect those that have been reserved by the States to the people. The line of demarcation between the powers of these distinct governments is not always clear; but when defined by the highest judicial tribunals should be recognized and maintained by the governments and by the people.

Kentucky, the first-born of the Constitution, has ever been foremost in advocating the rights of the people in the National Councils, and the blood of her children has ensanguined every battlefield from the lakes to the gulf, and from Canada to the plains and mountains of Mexico, in maintaining the just powers of government and in promoting the independence, prosperity and greatness of the United States. Her past history is a pledge of her future devotion, both to the cause of the people and to the government they have established for themselves.

In the administration of the internal affairs of the State many questions of difficulty and of delicacy have arisen, and others will doubtless arise. The State is indebted to my predecessor, in connection with the Legislatures which have been convened under his administration, for having settled some of the most important of these questions on a satisfactory basis, while others, for want of adequate authority in the Executive department, have not been fully solved. It will be my duty to recommend at the proper time the enactment of laws which will tend to a solution of all unsettled questions in the interests of the common welfare and of the peace and dignity of the Commonwealth. In the discharge of various duties which devolve upon me to perform, I will endeavor to give mature consideration to every case as it may arise, and act to the best of my judgment in the interests of the people, ever bearing in mind the fundamental principles of our government, that office is a public trust to be exercised in the interest of society in accordance with established laws, and that the chief duty of the Executive is to "take care that the laws be faithfully executed."

It will also be a most agreeable duty to co-operate with other departments of the government and with the people in promoting the development of the wealth of the State and in extending and diversifying its industries.

Profoundly sensible of my own deficiencies, I will endeavor to fortify my own judgment by calling to my councils men commanding the confidence of the people, and who, I believe, will render the State efficient and intelligent service. And while I am not profuse in making promises, I pledge the people of Kentucky that, to the extent of my ability, I will execute the duties they have confided to me, with entire fidelity to their interests.

I desire to return to the people of Frankfort my sincere thanks for the kind welcome they have given me to-day, and to assure them that I hope to convince them, during my residence among them, of my appreciation of the kindly greeting they have extended to me. I am prepared, Mr. Chief Justice Pryor, as a preliminary to entering upon the discharge of the duties of Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, to take the oath of office prescribed by the Constitution.

Chief Justice Wm. S. Pryor administered the oath of office to Gov. Buckner, after which Dr. G. C. Kelly pronounced the benediction.

Rev. George Darsie will arrive in the city Wednesday next, and will commence a protracted meeting at the Christian Church on that evening.

Tattle Ridge.

Mr. James B. Lea left for Tennessee, this week, for his health.

Miss Mamie Crim left for Indiana to go to school.

There were lively times on Goose Creek last Saturday. Mr. John Sargent, according to promise, took his club over and cleaned up the boys again. The number of scores was one hundred to nothing in favor of Sargent. After the ninth inning Sargent asked John Hayden, the manager of Goose Creek club, if he was satisfied that he could beat him? He looked up, with tears in his eyes, and said he would never play the Tattle Ridge boys any more. I think Sargent ought to get them a bat and ball and let them practice this winter, and perhaps will get to the front next spring. I think the hair grows too long on their heads. That will be a job for Zeke, as he was so kind as to attend to the peach orchard shoots, he will surely see to the Goose Creek boys.

Snooks Mitchell, one of Sargent's boys, made 49 scores, and hurt his side. He was asked, next morning, how he felt? He said he felt like a bottle of Shamrock oil would help him.

There was also a foot race run for a horse, by Mr. Clint Showalter and Thomas Johnson. The boys having trained horses, "light un-sen," proposed to run a foot race to see who should have both. Tom won the horse. Clint says the reason why he let Tom beat him was, his pa said that there was one of two things he had to do, he either had to move that horse off of his farm or move his washing. Clint, being in love with a young lady close by, was not ready to move yet. That is the reason he did not get to the front.

WANTED.—A white cook for a family of two persons. Apply to E. POWER.

Tonsorial Torment—A Story of Barberism.

Every man who has ever been in a barbershop has grown familiar with the tonsorial artist's bland and stereotyped "You next, sir." When you read the following experience of a gentleman in North Carolina—an experience which thousands have suffered—the bland Knight of the Razor Strop's stereotyped exclamation to the new comer in his shop, will have a new and peculiar significance. Read, and remember what to do in case you should have similar unfortunate experience. Terry writes:

REIDSVILLE, N. C.,
March 12, 1887.
Gentlemen:—I had barber's itch for three months. The eruption on my face was very bad. I could not shave at all. I took a course of S. S. S., and it completely cured me. To-day my skin is smooth and complexion denotes good blood. T. N. TERRY.

The City Marshal of Luka, Miss.

The gentleman who sent us the following certificate is the City Marshal of Luka, Miss., and is a man of high character, and prominently known throughout the State. His son had suffered intensely for six years from an eruption of the skin, caused by poison oak. All remedies, it appears, failed, until, fortunately, S. S. S. was tried, when the cure was made with wonderful promptness. Here is what this gentleman says:

Gentlemen:—My son had suffered for the past six years with an eruption on his legs, caused from poison oak and cracking of the feet. Nothing seemed to eradicate the poison from the blood until I gave him one bottle of Swift's Specific. This entirely cured him and I heartily recommend it to the public as a sure cure for poison oak.

Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO.,
Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

Entered at the post-office at Frankfort, Kentucky, as second-class matter.

GEORGE A. LEWIS.
Editor and Publisher.

FRANKFORT, SEPTEMBER 3, 1887.

The railroad election in Scott county comes off on Saturday, September 24th, just three weeks from to-day. We do not see as much preparation for bringing out the vote as we would like. Can not our friends of the Georgetown Times and the News stir up the minds of the good people by way of remembrance?

We are glad to note one thing, however, and that is that they have given outside railroad corporations to understand that they had better keep their money at home, and not attempt to influence the purchasable element against the enterprise; and that they will attend to any gentlemen who do so attempt in a way that they will not forget.

This is as it should be. Let any one who attempts to bribe a voter be given his just deserts. This is no time for foolishness and corruption. It is a time when every man should do his best for the promotion of the general good.

The roaring farce now being enacted at Morehead, and masquerading under the name of a court of law and justice, has been grinding out a few more acquittals. Pigman and Perry (the wipers-out of Craig Tolliver) being the last brought in. To read the verdicts of these wonderful juries one would be led to suppose that all the indicted parties are much abused and persecuted lambs that are muddying the stream above the wolf of the law.

Let the only remedy that will meet the case be used. Withdraw all the troops, give every fellow a Winchester with a hundred cartridges, turn them loose and "let her go Gallagher." Then abolish the county, and try the survivors where the law can be executed and is not a mockery and a shame to Kentucky, the queen of the Union.

By a singular mistake the Commissioner of Agriculture, Col. John F. Davis, was omitted from the names of those whom Governor Knott mentioned as his loved advisers, in his reply to the presentation speech of Mr. Murray, on the occasion of the State officials presenting the Governor with a silver service. Col. Davis is one of Governor Knott's most loved and valued friends, and the omission in the report is equally annoying to both.

If all the appointments made by Gov. Buckner, during his term of office, are as good, and as worthily bestowed, as his appointment of Assistant Secretary of State, his administration will be a decided success. There is no cleverer gentleman in the Commonwealth than Willis L. Ringo. He can't help being a gentleman and a good officer. It is his second nature.

Certain gentlemen had a slate arranged for Governor Buckner to appoint as his staff. Wonder who smashed that slate? There are various and sundry rumors afloat. Let the boys only keep still and things will "promulgate," if you only give them time.

The hose wagon ran all over South Frankfort on Friday afternoon, looking for the fire in Bellepoint. The alarm was telephoned to the Exchange and a messenger sent from there to the Engine House, and in the hurry and bustle of getting out the driver was not instructed where to go. Were this city provided with an electric fire alarm, the bell on the tower and the gong in the house would have told the firemen, in thunder tones, the location of the fire, and they could have been on the ground in time to have saved valuable property. And yet the "grave and reverend seniors," who preside over the destiny of this city, think such a thing unnecessary.

Coal was discovered, on Saturday, in a ravine on the farm of Mr. Allen Vaughan, near this city. Quite a quantity was found which had the appearance of having been washed out of the side of the hill, and proved to be of a very good quality. Mr. Vaughan will dig into the hill sufficiently to ascertain the thickness of the vein, and if the coal is found in paying quantities he will begin working the mine at once. It is to be hoped that it will prove to be a valuable find.

About half past six o'clock on Monday morning the residence of Mr. Nick Steffee, the railroad bridge-keeper, was discovered to be on fire. The alarm was sounded and the firemen were soon on hand and the fire was extinguished. The building was only partially destroyed. The loss was some $250 on the building and about $200 on Mr. Steffee's furniture, &c. The house was the property of the railroad company. The fire was caused by a defective flue.

The conduct of some of the soldiers, during their stay in our midst, was a disgrace to the State and to the uniforms they wore. Drunken, disorderly, insulting to ladies and generally outrageous in their conduct. If they don't know how to behave themselves, they should be taught, and that in such an impressive manner that they would not soon forget.

We were in hopes that Gov. Buckner, would retain Mr. Clarence Egbert as his private Secretary, not that we have aught against the new appointee, as he is an entire stranger to us, but we know that Mr. Egbert is worthy and well qualified, and he was always courteous and accommodating in his treatment of the representatives of the press.

Col. Billy Newhall says that it is an entire mistake about his resigning his position as boss of the Main street sewer. The work was stopped for a few days to keep from interfering with the inaugural parade. The Colonel is at his post again and don't propose to be imposed on by any sharp contractor.

There were a large number of men who became very weary before the day was over, on Tuesday, inasmuch that their legs refused to carry them, and friends had to rally to the rescue.

Ed. Peyton, who was sent to the penitentiary from Henry county for manslaughter, was pardoned by Gov. Knott on Monday.

About the gayest attempt at spelling that we have struck lately was a party undertaking to get away with the word auctioneer. It was spelled "ocsunner," Shades of Webster "on-a-bridge," defend us.

We are authorized to announce that the C. & O. and the L. & N. railroads will sell tickets to the reunion of the 22d Kentucky Regiment, to be held at Ashland, Kentucky, on the 12th of September, at one fare for the round trip. The tickets will be good until the 16th for return. All old soldiers are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. Richard Dehoney, of the Frankfort Base Ball Club, had the misfortune, when practicing a few days since, to collide with Mr. Ben. Marshall, when both were running at full speed, and was dashed violently to the ground and his nose was badly broken. Dr. Hume was called and adjusted the wreck and Dick is doing well at present and hopes soon to be entirely well again.

CIVIL ENGINEERING.—We desire to call attention to the advertisement of Mr. J. F. McAdoo, civil engineer. He will open an office in the Bristol Land Improvement Co.'s building on Sept. 1st. Mr. McAdoo was educated at the University of Tennessee, in Knoxville, and has been engaged in practical engineering for many years. He was a member of the Kentucky Geological Survey, and is recently of the new town of West Nashville, Tenn. He is prepared, not only to do the highest character of engineering and surveying, but also to furnish maps, plans, estimates and costs for any class of buildings. We recommend him to the public, feeling sure that he will give satisfaction.—Bristol (Tenn.) News, Aug. 16.

We are glad to see that our young friend McAdoo has established himself in that thriving region, and has every prospect of doing a fine business. He is thoroughly competent, and will do all work committed to his charge in first-class style. We were in hopes that he would be here when the surveys and building of the P., G. & F. R. R. are commenced, but it seems otherwise.

GANTER'S —CHICKEN— Cholera Cure!

Thousands of dollars worth of chickens die every year from Cholera. It is more fatal to chickens than all other diseases combined. But the discovery of a remedy that positively cures it has been made, and to be convinced of its efficacy only requires a trial. A 50-cents bottle is enough for one hundred chickens. It is guaranteed. If, after using two-thirds of a bottle, the buyer is not thoroughly satisfied with it as a cure for Chicken Cholera, return it to the undersigned and your money will be refunded.

FOR SALE BY
LeCompte & Carpenter,
SOUTH SIDE DRUGGISTS.
July 23-17.

Merchant Tailoring Department.

WHITE HALL was never so well prepared to do first-class work in this Department.

FALL AND WINTER STYLES.

Gentlemen should anticipate their wants and make selections early, thereby getting choice of Styles, and giving plenty of time to have the work well made.
MR. FITZPATRICK, "THE CUTTER" never fails to please a customer. If you want good fitting and stylish clothes, patronize WHITE HALL.

CRUTCHER & STARKS, MAIN STREET.

J. C. MASTIN.

G. H. MASTIN.

MASTIN BROS.,

—DEALERS IN—

Farming Implements, Field Seeds, Buggies, Wagons,

231 Main St. HARDWARE, & C. We keep in Stock

OLD HICKORY WAGONS,

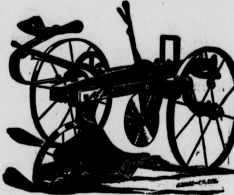

Kentucky and McSherry

GRAIN DRILLS

Buggies, Surreys, Road Carts,

FLAWS

Of every description, HARROWS, CUTTING BOXES, CIDER MILLS, and a fine line of Harness & Saddles.

DO YOU WANT THE EARTH?

We can't give you that, but we will give you the best

Gent's Shoe for	$2.00	in the city.
" " " " " " " " " " " "	2.50	" " " " " "
" " " " " " " " " " " "	2.00	" " " " " "
Ladies' Kid Boot for	2.50	" " " " " "
" " " " " " " " " " " "	2.00	" " " " " "

OTHER GOODS IN PROPORTION.

HATS! HATS! HATS!

A large stock, and prices to suit the times.

R. K. MCCLURE.

SALESMEN WANTED

To solicit orders for our reliable Nursery Stock. Good salary and Expenses or Commission. Permanent employment guaranteed. Address at once, stating age. SNELL & HOWLAND, Nurserymen, St. Louis, Mo. July 9-2m

FOR SALE.

One of the Best Located Residences in South Frankfort.

DR. W. H. HALL OFFERS FOR SALE HIS house and lot, on the corner of Cross and Main streets. The lot contains about two acres, and the house is in good repair. There are apple, peach and plum trees in abundance upon the place, two large pits stocked with Marshall Bell roses, and a green house planted with roses and heated with Hitchcock's improved hot water apparatus.

TERMS CASH.
Feb-25-17. Apply to DR. W. H. HALL.

FOR SALE.

THE HOUSE AND LOT FRONTING ON Ewing street and the Louisville Turnpike, in South Frankfort now occupied by S. C. Bull. For particulars inquire of Dr. San James or Mr. J. H. LINSLEY.

Aug. 19-2m.

NOTICE.

THE FIRM OF O. R. CRUTCHER & CO. GROOMS, Frankfort, Kentucky, is this day dissolved by mutual consent, Mr. Jordan retiring. O. R. Crutcher assumes all the liabilities, and will collect all accounts due the firm of O. R. Crutcher & Co. O. R. CRUTCHER, July 2-17.

NOTICE!

THE PUBLIC IS HEREBY NOTIFIED THAT I have bought from Mrs. Addie Garrett, administratrix of E. Whitesides, deceased, his entire interest in the Furniture and Undertaking BUSINESS.

And have sold one-half interest in my business to

W. S. DEHONEY.

And hereafter the style of the firm will be

STATEN & DEHONEY

And the business will be continued at the old stand of Whitesides & Staten, No. 218 St. Clair street. May 8-17. JOS. T. STATEN.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

FRANKFORT, SEPTEMBER 3, 1887.

Smoke the White Wing Cigar, at LeCompte & Carpenter's. 37-6m

We are now enabled, with our splendid new styles of job type and our more rapid facilities for printing, by means of our new cylinder press, to get out all sizes of posters and dodgers, as well as the neater styles of bill-heads, note-heads, ball and picnic invitation tickets, programmes, &c. Call and see us before you make your contracts for printing.

By order of Governor Buckner, Gen. John B. Castleman will remain on duty as Adjutant General until September 30. Major Wickliffe Chapman also remains in the office until that time.

The steamer Hibernia brought up an excursion party to the inauguration, on Tuesday, numbering about five hundred. Mr. Jas. T. Duvall, the old river man, who came up with them, says it was the largest lot of passengers ever brought up the Kentucky before.

The work of putting a "sleeve" over the break in the 14-inch water main in the river was completed by the divers on Tuesday and the water turned in. It is working all right, and it is hoped the Water Company will have no further trouble with it.

Editor Kerr, of the Jessamine Journal, is out in a card, in the Courier-Journal of Thursday, denying that he had absconded to avoid paying his debts, and says the sale of his paper was straight. He asks a chance, and promises to come out O. K.

The public schools, both white and colored, will re-open for the next term on Monday. The teachers have all had a good long vacation and will, no doubt, be ready for the year's work, much refreshed and re-invigorated by their rest. Let all the parents see that their children are present at the opening and are regular in attendance if they wish them to make substantial and satisfactory progress.

The people of Scott county are awaking to the responsibility that rests upon them, and are coming up to the work nobly. There is no doubt about the P., G. & F. railroad proposition carrying by a good majority. The only question now is how large that majority will be. Franklin's majority was 1,632. Bourbon saw our hand and went 104 better. Scott now intends to look over the work done, and then, so they say, make the majority an even 1,800. We hope she may.

Mr. M. M. Cassidy, an attaché of the Courier-Journal, came to our city to the inauguration, imagined himself to be a good sized demi-john, undertook to fill the demi-john and carry it home with him, and the usual consequences followed from his fooling with lightning. He attempted to show the clerks of the Capital Hotel how he could have a circus of his own and kicked the plate glass door to the office out of his way. Result, a severed tendon that will be a remembrancer for the balance of his terrestrial sojourn.

A Card.

I desire, through the medium of the ROUNDABOUT, to return my sincere thanks to Messrs. Payne & Berry, agents for the National Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn., for their prompt and satisfactory adjustment of the loss which I sustained by reason of the destruction of my household effects in the fire at the South warehouse on the morning of August 26.

If you want thoroughly reliable insurance, and with gentlemanly and honest agents to attend to the matter, you certainly will not be mistaken when you go to Payne & Berry.

Respectfully,
J. B. LEWIS,
Assistant Editor Roundabout,
FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 1, '87.

Our neighbor of the Argus comes up smiling, this week, with the first number of volume two. It has the appearance of having a long and vigorous life before it. The 'Squire takes his Democracy straight and unadulterated. Success to you, 'Squire.

Great curiosity has been aroused as to the report made by some would-be expert medical examiners in a certain investigation, held not long ago on the South Side, as to the physical development of a young colored woman. The result is palpable—$15 fine to each party engaged—but the silence as to the report is ominous.

Rev. T. N. Arnold will preach at Mount Zion Church, near Hatton, to-morrow week. All are invited to attend.

Game fish are beginning to bite, both in the river and in the creeks. The present cool weather will afford our fishermen some splendid sport.

Forks of Elkhorn.

We came up missing last week.

Miss Mattie Haines, of Peak's Mill, is visiting the Misses Coharn, at Woodlake.

Miss Mattie Ely, of Lexington, is here visiting Miss Jennie Goddard.

Mr. Ben Warren and family, of Louisville, have been visiting relatives here. They returned home last week.

Our school will commence Monday. Mr. C. H. Parrent, of Bridgeport is our teacher.

Miss Annie Enlow, who has been visiting friends and relatives in this vicinity, returned home, last Tuesday, to Clifton.

The Fork's Mission and Mt. Pleasant Sunday-schools, will picnic to-day in the beautiful woods of Mr. Steve Black, near the pond.

Miss Lena Kirtley, of Frankfort, has been visiting Miss Jennie Featherston.

Mr. C. H. Parrent, of Bridgeport, has moved to Stedmanville. We expect to hear from him often, through the ROUNDABOUT.

Miss Lulie Coharn has just returned from a trip to Shelbyville and Pleasureville, and will commence her school at Woodlake, Monday.

We attended the Franklin Association last week, which convened at Pleasant Ridge Church. Spent two pleasant days with those good people and stopped all night with Bro. Levi Scott, in company with Rev. A. B. Cabaniss, of the Recorder, Thomas Rodman, Ernest Jones and wife, Mrs. Bristow and Mrs. McCoy. We were entertained in royal style by the kind host and hostess. After tea we had a very interesting game of quots, in which our honorable friend, Thos. Rodman, the champion quoit pitcher of the world, and Ernest Jones, who is par excellent in the quoit business, formed a partnership so as to beat the Field Editor of the Recorder, and the editor of the Forks department of the ROUNDABOUT. They accomplished their aim, the score stood 7 to 0.

Moral.—Never play any game with a Bank President, unless you are well discounted; and, under no circumstances, play with a singing master, for he will never play you a flat-footed or a natural game, but invariably he will play you as a sharp. For, if they would treat a poor old Chinese, and a poor old Colporteur so, what would they do with any one else? Vanity, vanity, all is vanity.

Flat Creek.

A national public school picnic here to-day.

The editor of the ROUNDABOUT is solicited to preside at the meeting.

Flat Creek is a second Hudson in point of grand natural scenery.

A public dinner that would water the jaws of a Delmonico epicure will be served to all.

A competent singing master can obtain a handsome compensation by applying to Tracy at the public school.

Never, since the first infernal conception of a Georgetown railroad, did our corn and tobacco look more vigorous.

Bro. Dennis Harrod, our esteemed evangelist, lectures every Thursday night to large audiences at our opera house.

And now it is reported that Bro. John E. Miles will shift his flouring mill to Flat Creek, where his mill whistle will not be confounded by a Georgetown locomotive.

Uncle Tom's cabin, on Tadpole, will be patched in due season for the reception of a public school. The district contains over 100 pupils, and the patrons are all well able, and should build for the health and education of their benighted children a first-class school-house.

It is reported by a lady witness that at a late basket picnic on Cedar, over in Owen, that a number of intelligent young men behaved so ungallant as to toss the young girls "heels over head" from the lunch tables in order to seize and devour the food. Our Flat Creek boys are taught better manners.

FOREIGN.—The Sultan, of Bald Knob, has become obnoxious to the peasants of Flat Creek over his late action on the Georgetown railroad.

The Creeks seem to decline to secede from Franklin to unite with the Turks, who propose to form a new kingdom, whose capital shall be Jacksonville or Harper's Ferry.

The City Schools will be open on Monday.

Bellepoint.

It is curious that the owners of houses for rent in Bellepoint do not provide some conveniences in the way of water. Most of the tenants over here pack water from a quarter to a half mile. Several of them might club in and sink a well. Won't cost much.

The cost to build the house of Mr. Polsgrove that was destroyed by fire last week was $3,500, and he had insurance on the same for $2,000.

The sale of chickens and eggs will increase in our county now, that Garter's Chicken Cholera Cure has been introduced here. It has cured all to which it has been given, and is very popular with our poultry raisers. Sold by LeCompte & Carpenter.

A new importation of dress gingham at A. Harris'. 50

EDUCATIONAL.

The following hints we give for the benefit of teachers:

1st. Be on hand promptly.

2d. Open school exactly on time.

3rd. Don't talk too much.

4th. Organize and work at the same time.

5th. Take a class roll.

6th. Learn names by having pupils write them.

7th. Let each pupil select his or her own seat, reserving the right to change for cause.

8th. Don't say too much about order.

9th. Don't punish unless absolutely necessary.

10th. Don't lay down "the law."

11th. Have frequent intermissions for the youngest.

12th. Do not tell tales out of school.

13th. Above all, when you leave the school-room, leave all the failures, short-comings and misdeeds behind you.

The school in the "Leetown district" begins next Monday. Mr. Whitty Waldrop teacher. Mr. W. comes well recommended, and, if the parents will send their children and send them regularly and properly supplied with books, we will guarantee success.

Every teacher should be prepared to say something on one or more of the subjects to be discussed at the Institute. Do not fail. Those whose names are on the programme, of course, will open up on the subjects. Plenty of time will be allowed for discussion. Remember the "Institute Social," to be given on the first night of the Institute, the 27th of September.

The school at Stedmantown, district No. 11, will begin next Monday. Miss Maggie Downey teacher.

We will publish a full list of all the teachers in the county as soon as we are notified that all the schools are in operation.

COUNTY SUP'T.

BORN.

In Lexington, August 26, to the wife of G. F. McQueen, a boy—weight 11 pounds.

FOR RENT.—Brick house on Clinton street, opposite State House. Inquire of J. J. Quinn, 218 Lewis street. 51-1t.

FOR SALE.—A No. 1 work horse. For further information apply at this office. 51-1t.

Prompt Settlement.

Messrs. Jacob Switzer & Co., Insurance Agents.—In the loss of wheat which occurred on the morning of the 26th, in the burning of the warehouse of Sam South, in which we had twelve thousand bushels stored, on which the Commercial Union and Northern, represented by your agency, had policies amounting to $4,400.00, were adjusted on Saturday. This (Monday) morning we received a check from the Commercial Union and Northern for the loss sustained by them, all of which was adjusted satisfactorily to us without any trouble whatever.

MILES & SON.

AUGUST 29, 1887.

We still have on hand a well assorted stock of white goods at your price. Call and see for yourself at A. Harris'.

Ammunition, and shells loaded to order at MASTIN BROS'. 50

Just received a line of fall dress goods and notions at A. Harris'. 50

A. Harris, the leader of fancy and staple dry goods and imported millinery. 50

New goods, new styles and low prices at A. Harris'. 50

Habitual Constipation.

And kidney and liver ills, depending on a weak or inactive condition of the kidneys, liver or bowels, are successfully and permanently cured only by the use of the gentle yet effective laxative and diuretic, Syrup of Figs. Its advantages are evident, it is easily taken, pleasing to the taste, acceptable to the stomach, harmless to the most delicate system, and truly beneficial in effect. For sale in 50 cent and $1.00 bottles by CHAPMAN & GAYLE.

A Singer sewing machine given away with soap, at W. L. Jett's, Gresham's old stand. 40

FOR SALE OR RENT.—A frame cottage of four rooms, hall, double porches, cellar, well of good water in the yard and stable on the premises. Lot 150 by 100 feet. Price $2,500. Apply at this office. 46-tf

"Try the celebrated Eureka Springs Soap, for bath and toilet, at Chapman & Gayle. 34-tf.

For cheap sugars, call on J. Heeney, South Side. 44

Mediterranean Hybrid Wheat and Seed Rye for sale. W. R. Shaw, Jett's, Ky., or G. C. Shaw, Frankfort, Ky. Aug. 20-3t

FOR SALE.—A lounge bedstead and mattress. Apply at this office.

Read L. B. Marshall's advertisement in another column. 47

If you want seed wheat, fine chickens, stock hogs, horses, cows or calves, read L. B. Marshall's advertisement in another column. 47

Try a box of C. & S. Mocha and Java mixed coffee, at J. HEENEY'S. 44

L. B. Marshall has a good lot of Mediterranean Hybrid seed wheat for sale. 47.

Nothing more delicious than a cup of Chase & Sanborn's Mocha and Java mixed coffee, for sale by J. Heeney, South Side. 44

Blue Lick Water, fresh from the Springs, on draught at LeCompte & Carpenter's. 36.

MATTEN'S best Photographs of all sizes reduced to half price.

LOOK!!

A fresh lot of syrup of figs just received at LeCompte & Carpenter's, South Side. 39

Apply to Mastin Bros. for storage. 43

Orders for Drennon Water received at W. L. Jett's, South Side. 40

Syrup of Figs

Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Co., San Francisco, Cal. is Nature's Own True Laxative. It is the most easily taken and the most pleasantly effective remedy known to cleanse the system when bilious or costive; to dispel headaches, colds and fevers; to cure habitual constipation, indigestion, etc. For sale in 50 cent and $1.00 bottles by Chapman & Gayle. 47

FOR RENT.—Blacksmith shop on upper Main street. Apply to C. R. Gresham, Second street, near Shelby. 46.

Place your farms and town lots for sale with Wm. P. Scott. He will advertise them thoroughly. 47.

FOR RENT.—A two-story frame residence, with five rooms and cellar, on the corner of Logan and Campbell streets. Gas in the house and water in the yard. Apply to W. C. Herndon. 46.

Blood Orange, Empson's Ginger Ale and Drennon Water constantly on tap at W. L. Jett's, South Side. 40

HOT WEATHER INDUCEMENTS.—Ice-cold soda water, direct from the Arctic regions, the best in the World, at Chapman & Gayle's. 48-tf.

Communicated.

JETT, KY.

Editor Roundabout:

I have no desire to prolong a controversy, and what I have written in your issues of July 30th and Aug. 20th have been in the interest of the people of Kentucky and the Democratic party. There is a dissatisfaction of a most grievous character, and that among the most substantial men of the party; and, unless there is a decided change in the legislation of the State and the management of the finances of same, you may look for results more appalling than those of the last canvass. As a private citizen and a heretofore "looker-on in Venice," we sound the slogan, and let him that heareth take heed. From 40,000 the Democratic majority has been reduced to 17,000. We can not, neither can any one, speak encouragingly of results four years hence. There is evidently an ominous tide, of no small dimensions, manifesting itself in the body politic of the State.

We say this much prefatory to a few words in answer to quite a lengthy notice given the writer by Mr. John E. Miles, who comes forward in defense of Auditor Hewitt, and as the poor man's friend in his right to the franchise upon all questions. He and his friend "True Tax-payer" came suddenly to the conclusion that the writer would have the tax paid fifteen days before the assessment. I think the two must have had a talk together, otherwise I cannot see how they came to the same conclusion, unless it be that "great minds sometimes run in the same channel." I did not discuss the assessment law, but left the whole matter to "A Victim," who handled it well. And Mr. Miles, or "True Tax-payer," cannot, by any parity of reason, draw the conclusion they did from the article in question. What I did say, and I repeat, was that the time for collecting the taxes, September 1st, was inopportune, especially to the farmer, as he had but one crop to mature by which to get money to pay said tax. And I cannot conceive, by any reasoning, how it can be made to appear that tax-payer would have the tax paid on this wheat fifteen days before the assessment. Because the tax is paid from the proceeds of this crop, how can it follow that it must be necessarily assessed? I am not so ignorant as true tax-payer would have you believe. The money from the matured crops in the fall, and the stock sold, the farmer uses to pay his honest debts. There are few of them able to make a deposit to meet September taxes the year following, and hence I made the argument that the money must come from something to be sold that year, and it cannot, by any parity of reasoning, as I said before, be made to appear that I would have the tax paid fifteen days before assessment.

But Mr. Miles says, "if he is as far out of the way, about the sheriff of Shelby county, as he is about what I said about the collection of taxes, he should write Gen. Hewitt, or go to him, and ask his pardon and confess the wrong he has done him, and in future not go off half-cocked." I think I will be enabled to show that just the reverse is about the thing to be done. In other words, that Auditor Hewitt ought to apologize to the State of Kentucky, and, in doing so, he apologizes to its aggrieved citizens. The Auditor's Agent act, which he had passed, and the new assessment law, the child of the father, must be the subjects of our criticism. The assessment law having been so freely criticized by "a victim" and others, I will say but little more than has been already said. "The reputed authors of this extraordinary law," says a victim, have been swift to disclaim responsibility for the most objectionable of its provisions. Auditor Hewitt, who drafted it in its original form, says he had no idea of not permitting indebtedness to be deducted." Then, sir, as you did permit it, and as the Legislature did permit it, we look to you and that august body for an apology to the tax-payers of the State of Kentucky. "With what wisdom," says a victim, "is the world governed."

Auditor Hewitt, being the originator of the new assessment law (which I have been told by those who have read it in original form taxed even the fences of the farm), must have watched with a tender care, its passage through the Legislature, and it does not become him now to say, "oh I did not intend it. I had no idea of not permitting indebtedness to be deducted."

We have come to the Auditor's Agent act, a law passed to advertise and sell real estate for taxes due the State. The writer did not attend any of these sales, but was prevailed upon by the Auditor's agent to buy some of the advertised property. He did so believing it was all right, but, before doing so consulted Auditor Hewitt in person, who assured him it was all right. A test case came up from the city of Louisville, and the act was declared unconstitutional, and the writer finds now he has Auditor Hewitt's deed, with the seal of the great State of Kentucky, while the Auditor neither warrants nor defends the title, nor will he place the party in possession of the property, so that he finds, instead of buying property supposed to have been legally sold, he has simply bought a lawsuit. He is quietly told to bring suit, the property is good for the money. The property being entailed, and the heirs, some in the east, west, north and south, and process having to be served on all individually, you may readily see how easy it is to bring suit. Besides, we did not want to buy a lawsuit. We shun them as we would the bite of a viper. Why don't the State of Kentucky refund the money for the taxes paid in this way, as she has failed to make a valid deed to the property so sold?

We now come to the "balders-dash" about a property qualification in voting taxes. All we have to say on this is, that we must "agree to disagree." Wise men, you know, sometimes differ. "But," Mr. Miles says, "don't go off half-cocked." We will say, in all kindness to friend Miles, we have been careful, all our lives, not to be guilty of doing such a thing. We thought we were taking very deliberate aim. Some have said to us you "hit the mark." We, however, take the fatherly advice, but, with childlike simplicity, we say to friend Miles now don't you go off "half-cocked," as you did when you said, in one of your former articles, "Frankfort is your boss, and we intend to rule you," having reference to the county. (We quote from memory.) Do you want to antagonize the country? We do not believe you represent the people of Frankfort when you used that expression; but, if you do, we then say "let the tocsin sound and the timbrel ring." We have spent three dollars to every one we have gotten from Frankfort. We have not sold a bushel of wheat nor a pound of hemp (and it is a market for both), since South left the prison. The reason has not been because we did not try, but because markets were better elsewhere. And, when it comes to the smaller articles of merchandise belonging to the household, we have sold to Cincinnati and Louisville, at better prices delivered at our station than could be obtained in Frankfort (the purchaser paying all expenses). We don't believe, Mr. Miles, you represented Frankfort when you used the expression, but just went off "half-cocked."

Farewell. TAX-PAYER.

I append a scrap showing the way it works.

DANVILLE, Aug. 31.—Under the Hewitt revenue law, which received so much attention during the last campaign in the State, if taxes are not paid to-day 6 per cent. will be added to them. This is unusual and unprecedented in Kentucky, and has created quite a stampede among the property holders, who have thronged the Sheriff's office all day paying their taxes. The law has been unpopular all along, but since the screws are being tightened and the limit in which to pay draws near the denunciation of the law has become general and more open. There will be an effort made to in some way modify the Hewitt Bill when the Legislature convenes.

Among the Colored Citizens.

BY MR. PLEASE EVERYBODY.

Well! What is it I want? Fifty thousand dollars. Do you know where I can get it? Yes. The L. & N. railroad company has that much to loan out. It is the money they have collected off the rich colored people this summer, who have paid all of their debts, laid in their winter coal, and have a little money left over from their excursion trips. Well! What do you think about these excursions who runs them, for what purpose they are run, and on what day they are run. I do not believe that a minister of the gospel ought to engage in running excursions, and I am glad that Frankfort has not got a minister so poor and hard up that they have to resort to running excursion trains to make a living, for I do think it is a poor congregation that will allow their pastor to get so hard up that he has to run excursion trains to make a living. I do hope that none of the Frankfort ministers or pastors will ever get so greedy that they will advertise and persuade their members and friends to come and take an excursion trip, and split the air, when at the same time the preacher knows that it will not be long ere the winter's chilling blast will all but split them. Now preachers lift up your voices and teach the people economy, and do not be afraid to speak against an evil for fear you will lose a dollar by it, or the deceitful smiles of some one. I know it seems hard to some to do this, and I know that some shortsighted, one-sided, selfish person or persons will say that it is none of my business where or when the people go, but I know better, for there is a great work to be done for our race, and we cannot reach them all from pulpits nor from the school-house, consequently we have to give a word of warning through the papers, which will reach some one on the road to destruction and cause him or her to stop and possibly retrospect. I know that I am abused for the short communications I write to the ROUNDABOUT, but if I can, through the papers, save a single person from poverty, I am willing to lose a few dollars and cents and a thousand smiles from the deceitful. Other men have had to suffer for speaking what they thought was right and best for the race, while others, who were covered with the mantle of hypocrisy, ascended to the highest point of fame, from a worldly standpoint, by the ladder of falsehood, fraud and deceit. I love the race too well to undertake to rob them of one cent of their earnings. They have enough to contend with, outside of the race, to cheat and swindle and mislead them. Let us help each other.

Look at the Irish, who came here a few years ago with nothing but Biddy and the baby, and today he ranks in the highest circles, owns as much property, hold as high offices as any race in America. Look at the German. He has not been here long enough to speak plain, but has been here long enough to accumulate wealth, and to-day they are about to lead in this country. How is it these other races advance so fast? Why they save their money, educate their children, and help to build each other up. Let us educate. Let us have more race pride, for if we fail to have any respect for ourselves, no one else will respect us. Let's have money.

Look at Frankfort, with her thousands of the Africo-Americans, and not a single business house among them. Shame on you. One or two snack-houses constitutes the business carried on by our race in the city of Frankfort, the capital of the great Commonwealth of old Kentucky. Shall we sit here and die? I say no. Let us rally. Let us move as the world moves, or we will be left. Excuse me, Mr. Editor, this may be the last warning I shall give.

On Wednesday evening, Aug. 24th, at 6 o'clock, Mr. Thomas Lee, one of our oldest and most respected colored citizens, departed from this life to join his many friends in that happy land of the blest. Mr. Lee was well thought of by all who knew him. He was a pillar in the Baptist Church. Some of the older citizens met at the residence of Mr. Jas. Coleman, on Clinton street, to draft suitable resolutions of respect to his memory. Among those present were Rev. Henry Samuels, Messrs. R. H. Higdon, Louis Harris, Jas. Scott, Jas. Coleman, John Shelton, Henry Combs, M. C. Johnson, Wm. H. Mayo, Robt. Loomis and Guy Owens. Mr. M. C. Johnson was called to the chair and presided. The following committee was appointed to draft suitable resolutions: Wm. H. Mayo, Chairman, Henry Samuel and Louis Harris.

The committee offered a set of resolutions which were adopted and ordered to be read at the funeral of Mr. Thomas Lee, at the Independent Baptist Church, on Friday, August 26th.

IN MEMORIAM.

WHEREAS, We have learned with profound regret that our brother, Thomas Lee, was summoned to a better world than this, and died at his home in Frankfort yesterday evening, Aug. 23, 1887, at 6 o'clock, at an advanced age; therefore, be it

Resolved, That in the death of Thomas Lee Frankfort has lost one of her oldest and most worthy citizens, and the church one of her purest members, and society one of its brightest ornaments; whose life, in our midst, has been a noble example for good for more than half a century.

Resolved, That this church will attend the funeral of brother Lee in a body as a testimonial of our love for one who has spent a long life in elevating the cause of religion, by being a well tried deacon of the church for more than forty years, and in setting a noble example of the brightest Christian character; to be imitated by those he has left behind him; to be blessed by his bright example and his noble deeds.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the books of this church as a testimonial of our love for one whose whole life has been given to the service of his master, and the good of his fellowmen; faithful and honest alike in public and private life.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Frankfort papers, American Baptist, and to the family of the deceased, expressing our sympathy in their bereavement.

WM. H. MAYO, CH.

LOUIS HARRIS,

Committee.

The funeral was largely attended by some of our best citizens. Rev. R. H. C. Mitchell preached an excellent sermon upon the deceased's past life, and the resolutions adopted on Thursday evening were read by Mr. Wm. H. Mayo.

FOR RENT.—The two-story brick building, on the corner of Broadway and High streets, opposite the railroad depot. Apply to V. Kaltenbrun. 49

FOR RENT.—A brick house containing six rooms. Inquire of LOGAN MCKEE, 424 432 St. Clair street.

DIED.

In Dallas county, Texas, on August 19th, 1887, Mrs. (Mrs. H. H.) HARRIS, formerly Miss Corinna May, of this county.

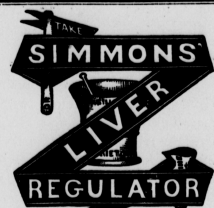

MARRIED.

At the residence of the bride's uncle, Chas. E. Taylor, at 1:30 p. m., September 1st, by Rev. R. H. C. Mitchell, D. D., Prof. F. O. BAKER, of Emancipation College, to Miss CAROLINA LEONARD WASHBURN, daughter of Col. W. P. Washburn, of Knoxville, Tenn.

Ladies

In delicate health needing a gentle yet effective laxative will find the California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs, pleasing to the taste, acceptable to the stomach, and perfectly safe in all cases. It is the most easily taken and pleasantly effective remedy known to cure and prevent constiveness, to dispel headaches, colds and fevers, and strengthen the kidneys, liver and bowels, and is therefore a favorite remedy with ladies. For sale in 50 cent and $1.00 bottles by 45-1m CHAPMAN & GAYLE.

PURELY VEGETABLE. It acts with extraordinary efficacy on the LIVER, KIDNEYS, BILIOUSNESS, AND BOWELS. AN EFFECTUAL SPECIFIC FOR Malaria, Bowel Complaints, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Constipation, Kidney Affections, Jaundice, Mental Depression, Colic.

BEST FAMILY MEDICINE No Household Should be Without It, and, by being kept ready for immediate use, will save many an hour of suffering and many a dollar in time and doctors' bills. THERE IS BUT ONE SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR See that you get the genuine with red "Z" on front of wrapper. Prepared only by J. H. ZIEGLER & CO., Sole Proprietors, Philadelphia, Pa. PRICE, $1.00.

Dr. W. I. Kelley, OF CINCINNATI, OHIO, —WILL BEAT THE— CAPITAL HOTEL —IN FRANKFORT, KY.— SATURDAY, SEPT. 24, 1887.

PILES, BLEEDING, BLIND OR ITCHING, Cured absolutely. One ($1.00) Thousand Dollars given to sufferer, or any charity he may designate, for any case of Piles I cannot cure by the BRILLIANT KEROFF SYSTEM. NO KNIFE IS USED! NO LIGATURE IS USED! LITTLE OR NO PAIN IS PRODUCED NO CHLOROFORM IS USED! FISTULA IN ANO Is cured. FISSURES Cured without cutting or tearing.

ULCERATION & CATARRH Of the bowel cured.

Dr. Kelly has now been visiting this city regularly for nearly three years, and the many cures he has made among the wealthy and influential citizens are sufficient evidence of his success. It is now a well established fact that many diseases of the stomach, liver, kidney, bladder, womb and nervous system are either caused or aggravated by the existence of PILES, FISTULA, FISSURE or RECTAL ULCER.

REFERENCES: Rev. L. P. Mallet, Dayton, Ky. A. H. McClure, Frankfort, Ky. Col. D. L. Sublett, Frankfort, Ky. Richard Ferguson, Frankfort, Ky. W. J. Hughes, Frankfort, Ky. J. H. McClure, Versailles, Ky. DR. KELLEY'S office and residence is at 376 West Seventh street, Cincinnati, and where he may be found every day of each week, EXCEPT

FRIDAYS AND SATURDAYS. Pamphlets describing these diseases and this mode of treatment sent free to any one by addressing

W. I. KELLEY, M. D., 376 West Seventh St., Cincinnati, O. CONSULTATION FREE. Dec. 26-27.

Dudley Institute.

THE TWENTY-THIRD SEMI-ANNUAL session of this school will begin

Monday, Sept. 12, 1887.

Mrs. T. M. Turner will have charge of the Primary Department. Terms per session of twenty weeks: Classical Department $87 50 Intermediate Department 25 00 Primary Department 20 00 Jy 2-2m. T. M. TURNER, Pres.

We were shown, on Thursday, by Mr. E. Hensley, the programme of the celebrated "Italian Opera Troupe," which gave several performances in this city in 1853, for the benefit of the poor. Our older citizens will remember what a furor of delight greeted this company. What a flood of recollections are called up by such names as Sigs. S. Cicero Leo Nardi, C. Grandisoni Leo Nardi, Don Bobitalio, Wilhelm Averello, Pane Jocko Henslano, Edward Hensliski, R. Whole Toni, J. Rodmano, Herr Billehardi, Hicki Critti and Mile. E. Mitchellero and Mad. Ellephanti, and others. The programme was issued from the office of J. Merrito Toddi. There was fun and music too, and don't you forget it. Alas! alas! How few are left of that noble and generous band.

Miss Anabel Giltner, the accomplished daughter of President W. S. Giltner, of Eminence College, and Mr. Henry A. Brewer, a prosperous young merchant of Eminence, were married Thursday afternoon at the Christian Church in that place, by Rev. Robert T. Matthews, of Lexington, assisted by Rev. W. J. Loos, of Eminence. Dr. O. D. Todd and Mr. Walter A. Hopkins officiated as ushers. The Church was beautifully decorated with flowers and potted plants, by James Sims, the colored Sexton of the Church, as a token of his love for the young groom, whom he had nurse in infancy; and Miss Mary Todd Calloway, presided at the organ, performing the wedding march as the bridal party entered and retired from the Church. Immediately after the ceremony the happy young couple left on the C. & O. train for a trip to Chicago, Cleveland and Cincinnati. The bridal presents were very numerous and exceedingly beautiful as well as useful.

The Georgetown Times says we were off in our statement that there were ten turnpikes running to Stamping Ground or in course of construction to that place. We accept the correction, and will say that we were so informed by a friend whose information we thought reliable. It has been some time since we were there, but, when our railroad is built, we expect to run up often. Hurray for the railroad, anyway!

A splendid picture of Rev. B. B. Tyler, D. D., is on exhibition in the window of Messrs. Rodman & Son. It was enlarged from a photographic negative made of him by Mr. H. G. Mattern in 1886.

Little Eugene, youngest child of Dr. Chas. C. Lewis, of Stamping Ground, died Wednesday night of cholera infantum, aged 11 months. The remains were interred in the family lot in the Cemetery in this city yesterday afternoon.

G. A. R.

Regular meeting of Albert G. Bacon Post, No. 33, Tuesday evening, September 6th.

A. B. NORWOOD, Com.
V. BERKBERICH, Adj't.

Dr. J. S. Collins will be absent from his office from this evening until September 15th, as he leaves to-night to attend the International Dental Society at Washington City.

Pea Ridge.

Weather cool and pleasant.

Mr. James Flynn has been threshing in this neighborhood.

Mr. Albert Gresham has nearly completed his pike contract.

Mrs. Sheets and Mr. J. Sheets, jr., of Indiana, are visiting the family of Mr. Will Tracy.

Our new pike is gradually nearing a finish.

Rev. E. A. W. Roberts preached his farewell sermon here to a large and attentive congregation last Sunday. Uncle "Ed." is quite a favorite here, and our people were very sorry to part with him.

The Officers of the S. A., accompanied by quite a number of their soldiers from Frankfort, held a meeting here last Sunday evening. The school-house being too small, the benches were moved outside under the trees. Over two hundred people were present, many from a distance. But one opinion seemed to prevail "That they are doing good. May God bless and prosper them and the good work in which they are engaged."

There's a lot of fun in this world, and so there is in the next, and that's where we are all going."—French Author.

The ROUNDABOUT, is fast becoming a humorous paper. The Grand Commander of the army of wits wrote a most humorous letter to the last ROUNDABOUT, that fairly sparkles and flashes with bright gems of wit. The letter shows the writer (Tax-payer) to be a man of considerable information. How he must have laughed when he wrote this comic line "We need a property qualification. A man who owns no property has no right to vote a tax on property owners."

Mark Twain never got off any thing funnier than this. That property owners are better than other people is funny, and the way by which the property was acquired is still funnier. Fraud, deceit, knife, pistol and poison have all been used in the acquisition of property.

Don't look for a crime among humble citizens, but look into your own ranks for crimes that, knowing the respectable character of the ROUNDABOUT and the large number of reined people's homes in which it circulates, forbids even the name of those crimes being hinted at.

Tax-payer's letter suggests two "ads" for war times:

1st. Wanted—Skulls for targets. Only property owners with taxes paid need apply.

2d. Wanted—To defend the State, men who have no vote or voice in managing its affairs.

"It was a very dark night and hearing the dogs bark, I went to the door and there he stood with his hands full of ROUNDABOUTS and he said 'Bald Knob, Benson, Flat Ceek and the Frankfort boys are all down on me. I'm J. E. M., and I'm looking for a place to hide.'"

"I told him several times that his hen was scratching up my garden. One day she laid an egg in my smoke-house and kept that up regular till she laid just an even fifteen and set on 'em three weeks. Then I asked him what he'd take for the hen. He said a quarter, which I gave him. So now I have got a dozen chickens for nearly nothing."

Moral—"If any of your neighbor's hens, From home should chance to stray Don't let your angry passions rise, But fix a place for them to lay."

A gentleman who, for convenience, we shall Uncle Sam build a fine house and added other chambers to it as his family increased in number, until the house contained thirty-eight rooms which he named for the various States. In the course of years, and through inattention and carelessness the rooms became infested with certain noxious, spiteful insects, which rendered the lives of the occupants miserable, asleep or awake. Uncle Sam offered to clean out the rooms, but, not wishing to invade the privacy of any chambers, he invited his children to do it, he furnishing water, brooms, powder and servants to do the work.

The excuses the children gave for not going to or having it done were very amusing. One said he hadn't the right to do it because the former occupant had not done it. Another said the insects were not doing much harm and that they were bound to have a living. All agreed that Uncle Sam had no right to invade their personal liberty. Quite a number of the chambers issued an address to the insects as follows:

"Bug, we know that you do, and will continue to, bite most unmercifully, and that it is your nature to bite, therefore we will not crush you nor drive you out but we will regulate your conduct, so don't bite after 12 o'clock at night, nor before six in the morning; don't you bite any person under 21 years of age; and don't you bite any person who has already been bitten too much."

The children who occupied the rooms that were named after Maine, Iowa, Kansas and Georgia crushed and cleaned out those pests, and adopted as their motto "Bite no More."

Our poet has been engaged on a poem for the last three weeks, and, not having it done in time, was the reason the Ridge correspondent failed to inflict the readers with this column. The poem was intended to be a companion to the famous tobacco poem which appeared three weeks ago. The first week was consumed in writing the poem, the second in finding it the name "The Jolly Grog," and the third was consumed in a wrangle between the poet and the sage as to whether hog-slop rhymed with grog-shop, a question that Tom Ford alone can settle. In the mean time the poem is withdrawn for repairs.

The scribe, in company with a number of Ridgeites, attended a meeting of the S. A. at Bellepoint last Wednesday night, and saw so much to admire in the conduct of the citizens of that city that it is recounted here. The meeting-house was crowded, many having to stand in the vestibule and on the steps, but when the proceedings commenced every hat was taken off. And then several, who wished to smoke cigarettes, instead of lighting up in the house, came out on the steps to smoke. The same with those who wished to talk. In order to avoid crowding each other while leaving at the close of the meeting, about one-half of the congregation got up and went out while the captain was speaking. This made more room for the others.

An Art Institute has been opened, in the room over Mr. Henry Samuel's barber shop, by Mr. S. A. Coleman and Mrs. D. Coleman for instruction in that line. The Studio will be opened this morning and will remain open until 10 o'clock, p. m.

DIED.

In this city, on Wednesday afternoon, August 21st, 1887, Mrs. MATILDA JEFFREY, after a lingering illness with consumption, aged 57 years.

BORN.

In Louisville, on Wednesday, August 31st, 1887, to Dr. W. L. Rodman and wife, a daughter.

The True Method

Of curing habitual constipation, and liver and kidney ills is to avoid the use of the bitter drastic liver medicines and cathartics, and to take only the pleasant liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs. It cleanses as well as strengthens the system, and does not leave the bowels costive, so that regular habits may be formed and the invalid permanently restored to health. It acts promptly and effectively; it is easily taken, and perfectly harmless. For sale in 50 cents and $1.00 bottles by Chapman & Gayle.

JACOB SWIGERT.

JACOB SWIGERT & CO.,

[Successors to F. C. Hughes.]

GENERAL INSURANCE AGENTS,

FRANKFORT, KY.

Representing the following Staunch Companies:

LIVERPOOL AND LONDON GLOBE.	London	$80,000,000
LONDON ASSURANCE.	London	15,713,960
IMPERIAL.	London	12,197,900
NORTHERN.	London	9,925,740
COMMERCIAL UNION.	London	8,965,370
LANCASHIRE.	Manchester	4,910,488
PRINCE.	Manchester	4,754,880
HARTFORD.	Hartford	1,074,710
CONNECTICUT.	Hartford	1,018,402
AMERICAN.	Philadelphia	1,810,278
WASHINGTON F. & M.	Boston	1,551,963
OBERT.	St. Louis	1,172,798
AMERICAN CENTRAL.	Hamburg	1,025,004
HAMBURG-BREMEN.	Hamburg	810,265,506

Office up stairs, CITY HALL BUILDING.

June 18-ly.

Is The Best Waterproof Coat Ever Made.

J. M. WAKEFIELD,

MANUFACTURER AND DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF

LUMBER

FRANKFORT, KENTUCKY.

Aug-18-ly.

Mrs. Green will re-open her school at 217 Washington street, September 12th, 1887. 50-4t

Just received a nice line of Hamburgs, Torchon and Medici laces. 50 S. D. JOHNSON & Co.

Full set of bed-room furniture (second hand), for sale cheap. Call at this office. 1t

500 yards all silk ribbon, No. 7, at 10 cents. S. D. JOHNSON & Co.

Fresh bread, Nickols' make, every afternoon at 4 1/2 o'clock, at W. L. Jett's, Second street. 50

New party gloves at 50 S. D. JOHNSON & Co's.

Regular grinding day, Wednesday and Saturday. Meal exchanged when not running at Jewel Mills. 48-ly.

TENNESSEE WAGONS!

ALL SIZES, FOR SALE, AT

Lowest Prices,

—BY—

H. R. WILLIAMS,

ALSO AGENT FOR

EVERY FLOW,

All sizes kept in stock.

Corn, Oats, Hay, Bran and Ship-Stuff always on hand. Straw for beds or placing under carpets furnished on short notice. Aug. 20-ly.

HEADQUARTERS FOR CHEAP GOODS.

KIRTLEY & HUGHES,

—DEALERS IN—

Staple and Fancy Groceries.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

304 BROADWAY STREET.

Frankfort, Ky.

All goods sold for the lowest cash prices. aug. 13-lyr.

Should you want a nice Surrey, Buggy, Saddle or set of Harness, see Mastin Bros. 47

Useful and Harmful Medicines.
There is a certain class of remedies for constipation absolutely useless. These are boluses and potions made in great part of podophyllin, aloes, rhubarb, gamboge, and other worthless ingredients. These they do to the stomachs of those who use them is incalculable. They evacuate the bowels, it is true, but always do so violently and profusely, and besides, gripe the bowels. Their effect is to weaken both the mind and the stomach. Better far to use the agreeable and salutary aperient, BRIDGES' STOMACH BITTERS, the laxative effect of which is never preceded by pain, or accompanied by convulsive, violent action of the bowels. On the contrary it invigorates those organs, the stomach and the entire system. As a means of curing and preventing malarial fevers, no medicine can compare with it, and it regulates nervous debility, rheumatism, kidney and bladder incapacity, and other inorganic ailments.

New silk hosiery and beautiful French fans. 50 S. D. JOHNSON & Co.

One show case and two or three counters for sale. Apply to 45 R. K. McClure.

The wonderful Healing properties of Darby's Prophylactic Fluid in case of Accidents, Burns, Scalds, Cuts Wounds, etc.

Its prompt use will invariably relieve pain, promote healing and prevent Erysipelas, Gangrene, or Proud Flesh. Owing to the cleansing and purifying qualities of the Fluid the most obstinate Ulcers, Boils, Carbuncles and Running Sores are rendered pure and healthy and speedily cured, no other application being necessary. 45-1m.

L. B. MARSHALL,

(One mile from Frankfort on Owenton turnpike)

—OFFERS FOR SALE—

200 RUSSIAN MEDITERRANEAN HYBRID SEED WHEAT.

1 yearling Holstein Bull.
Holstein Bull calf.
1 brood Mare, 12 years old.
1 good Work Horse, 12 years old.
1 good Yearling Pig.
5 Milch Cows, all giving milk, but not fresh.
Will sell cows cheap.
A few Grade Holstein Calves from some of my best dairy cows.
A lot of good Black Berkshire Shoats, 6 months old.
A lot of

FINE CHICKENS,

S. C. White Leghorns, R. C. Brown Leghorns, Black Javas, W. F. B. Spanish, Wyandotte and Buff Cochins. Price of chickens $1.50 each or $2.50 per pair.

The yearling bull and bull calf are both from my fine imported cow, southern, Beauty and are nicely bred.

If you need anything advertised, COME AND SEE ME.

13-lytuff

FOR SALE OR RENT.
THE RESIDENCE OF E. WHITESIDES, DE-1 covered. It contains five rooms, all in good repair. Splendid well of water in the yard, good garden, coal house, stable, and carriage-house. For terms apply on the premises. Aug. 13, 1887-ly.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

Antioch.

Singing.
Preaching.
Pleasure trips.
Moonlight strolls.

Miss Annie Roberts has been playing with the chills this week.

Mr. Robt. Cheatham is at present employed by F. E. Lewis to train pet coons.

Mrs. Capt. S. V. Pence visited her father, A. W. Polsgrove, at the mouth of Stoney Creek, last Tuesday.

Frisky Johnny has been attending the meeting this week. Johnny is a smasher. Bully for Johnny.

Miss Melia Sargent, who has been visiting friends in Anderson county, returned home Sunday.

Mr. James Snellon, of Tiger, is visiting his brother Charlie, this week.

Our public school was agreeably surprised, last Tuesday, by a visit from Superintendent Hunter, Misses Mattie Fisher, Mangan, and Cain. Come again, Bro. H., our little folks are always glad to see you.

Two young gents met in the pike, a short distance from the church, last Tuesday, and prepared to settle a wrangle which they had had about a dog. As good luck would have it one got hold of a rock, the other his pistol, and thus happily ended the quarrel, as one did not like the looks of rocks, the other can't bear the thought of a pistol.

The social picnic given on the Frankfort and Flat Creek pike, near Harvieland, last Saturday, was quite a lively affair. King alcohol, we are reliably informed, played a very conspicuous part. He got one man out of his shirt, two more out of their coats, ten or fifteen more out of their senses, drew pistols from their pockets, and caused a flow of the most disgusting language from the lips of his poor victims that the good people of that section have had to listen to since their existence. So much for whisky.

Prof. Albert Corbin, teacher of vocal music at this place, went out last Sunday night to hear Bro. Arnold preach. After preaching, the Professor left the church, intending to go to his brother-in-law's to stay all night. The Professor started off in good spirits and with a gay heart, but, instead of going home, he went in the opposite direction, traveled on for some time, when he came to the river, which stopped his progress. Had it not been for this, perhaps we would never have heard of the Professor again. Finding out his mistake, he turned to retrace his steps, but the night being very dark and having lost all knowledge of the road, he struck out boldly into the forest, and, after clambering over the rugged hill sides and treading his perilous way through the lonely valleys, he at length came to the Frankfort and Flat Creek pike at or near Uncle John Rossell's, arousing Uncle John from his quiet slumber and inquiring earnestly and diligently which end of the road led to Mr. James Sargent's, Uncle John, of course, gave the desired information. The Professor quietly and leisurely turned his face toward Mr. Sargent's, where anxious and inquiring friends were waiting for him, arriving just as the little birds began to warble their plaintive notes to awaken slumbering humanity to life again. He was received by his friends with much rejoicing. He immediately left for his home in Anderson county, deeply meditating on the pleasant stroll of the previous night.

With pleasure we give your correspondent from Hard Scabble the derivation of the word "Bloviate." Bloviolate, though comparatively a new word, coined doubtless by the unconscious muddy fountain-head of slipshod language, the slang whangers, is evidently derived from "blow," Saxon blowen, blower, to blow as wind. German blauen, to swell or inflate; Danish bloeyen, ditto; Welch bloden, &c., &c. Among the definitions he will find these: to sound a wind instrument, as blow the trumpet; to deposit eggs, as flies, and so blow a piece of meat; to swell or inflate, to fill with air; to puff up one with flattery, or blow up a contention.

All this gives a broad foundation for bloviolate and likewise for the bloviators of Benson and Harp, and it is hardly to be doubted that, in course of time, it and they will be registered in Webster's unabridged, just as "chaw," "skeddaddle, and dozens of others of similar origin have been.

BOB O. LINK.

Tick Ridge.

DELATED LETTER.

David Adams, late partner of Uncle John Rossell, has moved to the place of John Finkel.

Ninety Netherton was out Sunday riding an old soap stick of a horse, and it was with much difficulty that he could keep up with his girl. He belabored the beast on the right and left, and was fearfully weary when the journey was ended.

Frank Moore has moved into the toll-house, and henceforth will be a partner with Uncle John in the division of the dividends.

Col. Bunk Updike has been elected Chief of the fire department on "Tick Ridge."

Mrs. Kate Shackelford, of Winchester, is on a visit to her father, Mr. Jas. Glore.

Miss Sally Scott, of Louisville, is the guest of Miss Norah Glore this week.

Mrs. Sally Stivers has returned from her visit to the City of Louisville.

Miss Lizzie Griffiths, of Winchester, is on a visit to the Misses Glore.

Humphrey Polsgrove has been on a visit to Georgia, and is much pleased with his visit. Some of the school patrons are uneasy lest they may lose his pedagogical services.

Mrs. Geo. Glore, son Lee and daughter Sallie, are the guest of the family of her brother-in-law, Mr. James Glore.

Allen Hayden, of Danville, Indiana, and Ben. Hayden, of Hatton, are sojourning this week with Mr. James Glore.

Mrs. John Stivers, of Anderson county, is visiting the family of Butler Glore.

The State of Benson contains, according to a late census, 640 inhabitants, and it takes two magistrates to represent her in the great Court of Claims. This, the Capitoline district, has 12,000 inhabitants and represented by only two Magistrates. It seems that we need an apportionment bill.

We attended Antioch last Wednesday evening and heard the able discourse of Rev. Mr. Arnold, and were much amused at the manners of "Frisky Johnny."

We extend the right hand of fellowship to Pearl, your new Bellepoint correspondent. He scribbles right well for a greeny.

Mrs. M. Walston, our leading merchant, is in receipt of a large invoice of goods which, when added to her present stock, will make the most complete establishment on the "Ridge." One thing about her way of doing business is, she knows whom not to trust.

RED EYE.

Mr. Jerome Weitzel sent us, on Saturday, a curiosity in the shape of a large hen's egg with a small egg inside of it, which was perfect, shell and all.

Tattle Ridge.

Miss Douth Lea and her brother are visiting friends at Benson.

Mrs. Sis. Lea spent the day Monday with Mrs. Clark at Peytonia.

Mr. A. J. Showalter, the auctioneer, is stocking his farm with alderney cattle. He says he is tired of short-horns.

Mr. Louis Lea and Mr. Ves. Whitman will start a dairy soon on East Tattle Ridge. We wish them success.

Mr. Mort. Showalter has gone to Knox county to remain until Christmas. His absence will be much regretted, especially by one fair girl. Miss B. B. you must be a good girl until his return.

Mr. John Sargent played a match game of base ball with the Rap-tag club, and beat them badly.

Mr. Bledsoe Lea was playing with Mr. Sargent's club and attempted to catch a ball near a fence, and was so unfortunate as to run a splinter under his thumb nail in such a way as to cause fears as to saving his thumb.

C. E. COLLINS & BRO.,

DEALERS IN—

GENERAL

HARDWARE!

and Building Material, Paints, Oil, Glass, Lime, Cement,

Blacksmiths and Wagon Makers Material, Iron, Field Seeds, Harness, and a fine new line of Wall Paper and Decorations, and at very lowest prices. Cor. Broadway and Lewis Streets,

FRANKFORT, - - - KENTUCKY.

Feb. 24-11.

P. U. MAJOR,

ATTORNEY AT LAW
FRANKFORT, KY.,

WILL PRACTICE IN THE CIRCUIT COURTS of Franklin, Carroll, Gallatin, Boone, Owen and Grant counties, in the Court of Appeals, and in the Federal Court.

May-11.

WM. CROMWELL

Attorney-at-Law

AND

Real Estate Agent,

WILL PRACTICE IN THE COURTS OF Franklin and the adjoining counties, and will also give special attention to the purchase and sale of real estate, collection of rents, claims, and the negotiation of loans. Office opposite Court-house.

June 20-11.

JAS. ANDREW SCOTT.

JAS. A. VIOLETT.

SCOTT & VIOLETT,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

FRANKFORT, KENTUCKY.

WILL PRACTICE IN ALL THE COURTS IN Franklin and adjacent counties. OFFICE—Up stairs, in the Duval Building.

Jan 20-11.

DR. J. S. COLLINS,

DENTIST.

OFFICE, MAIN STREET, OPP. RODMAN & BROS. Teeth extracted without pain by the use of Nitrous Oxide (or laughing) gas.

Mar. 20-11.

L. F. COMPTON.

W. C. MACKLIN.

COMPTON & MACKLIN,

—PROPRIETORS—

Elkhorn Roller Mills,

—HAVE THE FULL—

ROLLER SYSTEM,

—AND MANUFACTURE—

Six of the best grades of the best Flour made in the World.

Office & warehouse, Broadway, opp. Capitol Square.

Jan. 27-11.

I. O. O. F.

CAPITAL LODGE, NO. 4 MEETS EVERY MON. day night. Visiting brothers cordially invited.

Jan 20-11.

J. B. WILLIAMS, Sec.

JAS. MURRAY, H. G.

P. LIGHT.

E. CLAASSEN.

LIGHT & CLAASSEN,

—PRACTICAL—

Plumbers, Gas & Steam Fitters,

—DEALERS IN—

Gas Fixtures, Bath Tubs, Sinks, Closets,

Pipe and Fittings, &c. Strict attention given to Job and Contract Work. All work Guaranteed.

No. 227 St. Clair St., Weitzel Block, - - Frankfort, Kentucky.

Mar. 11

Jno. T. Buckley

—IS—

STILL AHEAD

—WITH THE—

Largest Stock

Ever brought to this city in

Queensware, Glassware, Lamps

—AND—

Fancy Goods!

Of all descriptions. The

LARGEST STOCK

—OF—

STOVES, GRATES,

Brass Goods, Coal Hods & Vases, And at prices that cannot be depicted, ever seen in one House in Frankfort before. Don't forget the place.

JNO. T. BUCKLEY.

St. Clair Street.

Capital City Machine Works

J. B. MEEK, Proprietor,

—Manufacturer and Dealer in—

STEAM ENGINES & BOIERS,

Distillery, Mill and Agricultural Machinery.

DRAWINGS AND ESTIMATES FURNISHED.

Blacksmithing, Pipe Work, Jobbing and Repairing Promptly Attended to.

Agent for ATLAS ENGINE AND BOILER WORKS, and Columbus Steam Pumps.

SEND FOR PRICE LIST. 123 Lewis St., Near the River, Frankfort, Ky.

H. G. MATTERN'S

CAPITAL

ART GALLERY

—342 MAIN STREET.—

PORTRAITS IN CRAYON,

—AND ALSO—

PHOTOGRAPHS

Of all Sizes at Reduced Price.

R. ROGERS

—DEALER IN—

FURNITURE,

COFFINS, &c.

Cornice Poles and Window Fixtures

A SPECIALTY.

327 MAIN STREET.

FRANKFORT, KY.

All the latest style Furniture constantly in stock

May 2-11.

FALL AND WINTER GOODS

BERBERICH

Merchant Tailor

CLOTHS, DOESKINS, LATEST STYLES OF FANCY FRENCH CASSIMERES, CORKSCREW DIAGONALS, FANCY WORSTEDS, MELTONS & KERSEYS, FLYING, &c. CHINCHILLAS

Choic Coal Cheap.

ALL KINDS DOUBLE SCREENED for family use. Prompt Delivery, Full Weight, Bottom Prices.

Telephone connection No. 36.

GEO. B. MACKLIN,

FRANKFORT, KY.

Dec. 4-11.